WELCOME TO EYNESBURY

There's no place like Eynesbury.

A fully contained world adjoined by 288 hectares of Grey Box Forest, Eynesbury feels a world away from suburbia yet lies just 40 minutes from Melbourne's CBD. And with a community of over 3000, there's so many attractions and amenities on the ground already.

This place is remarkable for so many reasons. The rich history and many natural wonders. The distinctive architecture and beautiful tree lined streets. And with 50% of the community being green open space, the overall feeling of space and light is abundant.

Browse this brochure, explore the land, then come and visit us. We'd love to show you around.

A PLACE RICH IN HISTORY

A MILLION YEARS OF HISTORY

Eynesbury has a long, multi-layered history. A history that's rich in people, pride of place and a proudly independent community spirit.

Eynesbury's Traditional Owners occupied this land for tens of thousands of years. Then there's the well-preserved pastoralist and natural history - the story of the land, plants and animals. And finally, there's the collective history that the current residents create each day. Because, above all, Eynesbury's history is written every day by those who call it home.

1 MILLION YEARS AGO

The spectacular Werribee Gorge, which neighbours Eynesbury, was formed along a fault line in the earth's crust.

Eynesbury's Traditional Owners, the Wadawurrung, occupied this land for tens of thousands of years, caring for Country in the most sensitive and sustainable way.

1842

Simon Staughton arrives in Australia from England and quickly builds a vast property empire. He eventually controls over 102,000 acres.

1870

Upon Simon Staughton's death, his children divide the land holdings into four lots and Eynesbury is created.

1872

Samuel Staughton starts building the beautiful Eynesbury Homestead, which takes three years to complete. The sizeable home is well used as Simon and his wife Lizzie have seven children.

1880

This was a busy year for Tom Staughton. A fierce advocate for the local community, he's not only elected to the Victorian parliament, but he also founds the Melton Football Club and is unanimously elected president.

1880

The first annual Wyndham vs Eynesbury cricket match is held.

1884

After donating the land for the railway line, Samuel is on hand to see Melton Station opened.

1885

The first renovation of Eynesbury Homestead is completed with a billiard room and ballroom added.

1891

An Eynesbury shearer only known by the initials CC writes 'Click go the shears'. The song originally appears in the Bacchus Marsh Examiner.

1897

Complimenting the extensive vegetable gardens and orchard, the ornamental lake is built at the Homestead.

1947

The Eynesbury Pastoral Company (EPC) sells Eynesbury to John Baillieu. The polo fields, just off the main road, are still owned by the Baillieu family today.

2003

Covering over 1200 hectares, the modern Eynesbury township development is announced by a joint venture consortium. In the coming years, much planning and restoration is undertaken.

2007

The Eynesbury golf course is opened to the public. Golfers from far and wide flock to test themselves.

2008

Home, sweet, home! The first new home at Eynesbury is completed and the happy new residents move in. In the following years, many new homes are completed and the community rapidly grows.

2019

Resimax Group assumes sole ownership of Eynesbury and starts writing the next chapters of Eynesbury's history.

2020

The Eynesbury Quarter is born. After extensive and sympathetic renovations, the Eynesbury Homestead reopens with a new entertainment precinct.

2022 & BEYOND

From substantial infrastructure updates, a major town centre and luxury accommodation, to a world class day spa, numerous outdoor and lifestyle amenities and an expanded educational precinct, Destination Eynesbury is truly set to become the place to be in the West.

Eynesbury's proud to have 19 heritage-listed assets featured on the property. To celebrate these well-preserved buildings and structures, the Eynesbury Heritage Trail was born, giving residents and visitors a well-rounded understanding of the land's impressive pastoral heritage.

To the left, a paved road runs parallel to the clubhouse. To the right, a winding water feature, possibly a pond or stream, flows through the golf course. The background shows a dense residential neighborhood with many houses and trees. The overall scene is bright and sunny, with long shadows cast by the trees and buildings.

EYNESBURY GOLF COURSE

The 10th Hole

Designed by the legendary Graham Marsh in 2007, the 18-hole Eynesbury Golf Course is set against a visually-arresting and historic backdrop. Featuring wide fairways, extensive bunkering and water hazards, including several meandering creeks, the course is seamlessly integrated into the heart of the Eynesbury community.

- Rated in Top 100 Australian Golf Courses
- Helicopter access to course
- Number one public access course
- Voted Victorian PGA Pro-Am of the year 2011
- Pro Shop located in the historic stables

I always love coming back to Eynesbury for a game of golf. There's plenty of interesting holes and it's a challenge, especially off the blacks. You have to think your way around the course too, and it isn't always the smartest play to pull driver.

CONNECTED COMMUNITY

Mt Mary Road is a major piece of infrastructure that will connect Eynesbury with the booming suburbs of Wyndham. The road will save 25 minutes from Eynesbury to Werribee.

SUSTAINABILITY

Resimax Group places significant importance on sustainable development, looking to conserve and enhance natural resources as much as possible. As one of the largest owners of offset sites in Victoria, the active management of native vegetation and biodiversity is a key focus of the Group. Furthermore, significant measures have been taken to ensure water conservation, treatment and passive irrigation throughout the township.

OSEY Pty Ltd A Sustainable Vision

While Resimax Group is continuing to build the Eynesbury township, OSEY preserves the future of environmentally significant sites throughout Victoria that share similar native flora and fauna with Eynesbury.

The management of these sites, under the ownership and control OSEY, will be in accordance with agreements with the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning and Trust for Nature. This will ensure high quality, environmentally sound landscapes are maintained for future generations.

Class A Recycled Water

Each household has two water supplies – drinking and Class A water. Recycled water is treated to Class A standard and is supplied to homes through purple-coloured pipes. Each property will have two separate meters, one for drinking water and the other for recycled water.

Water Treatment Plant

Resimax Group has also developed an on-site recycled water treatment plant which converts Class C water into Class A for use on Eynesbury's Golf Course. This significantly reduces the amount of fresh water required for irrigation and will ensure the golf course is looking green all year round.

Passive Irrigation

Given the west of Melbourne typically receives approximately half of Melbourne's annual rainfall, it's important to capture as much stormwater runoff for passive irrigation of streetscapes. During the services planning phase, the engineers and landscape architects work hand in hand to maximise the number of passive irrigation pits to service as many street trees as possible. This also helps to reduce pollutants and minimise runoff into the existing creeks and river systems.

On-site Native Nursery

Resimax Group has plans to establish an on-site native nursery. Once established, it will be an environmentally friendly initiative the will utilise the on-site water treatment plant and supply native plant species direct from within the project to new front yards as they are landscaped.
